Frontispiece engraving: 146 x 92 mm. A Hebrew priest stands on a square plinth and holds a flask in his right hand inside of which a serpent seizes its tail forming an ouroboros. From the neck of the flask three tulip-like flowers emerge. On the left is a high cliff with trees or plants growing on the summit. At its foot are two caves. An animal is entering one of these caves, while from the other a stream or river emerges (or enters). This stream passes beneath the figure of the priest and enters a cave or tunnel in a small mound on top of which are three vines with grapes. On the right beside and behind the priest's plinth is a circular tower surmounted with a globe and cross.]

Abraham Eleazar the Jew, a Prince, Priest, and Levite, Astrologer and Philosopher, sprung from the root of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, wish my brethren, who through the anger of the Great God, lie scatted her and there throughout the world and are caught in servitude, much success and happiness in the Name of the soon coming Messiah and of the great Prophet Elias, who has already prepared all his brethren. Deni, Adonai, Bocitto, Ochysche 60 F, therefore wait in patience until the Hero comes.

Marantha however, over all and sundry, not of the tribe of Judah, who receive this book into their hands, that such must be destroyed and perish, as the company of Korah, Dathan, Abiram and perish or vanish in the Fire.

Book II, Esdras, Chapter 14, Verses 39-47

And I opened my mouth and saw there was reached to me a full basin, this was full as it were of water, its color however like unto fire, and took and drank, and as I had drank out of it, then was my heart troubled in the understanding and in my breast grew Wisdom, then my spirit was got with good remembrance, and my mouth was opened, and was henceforth not shut.

The Highest gave also to the 5 men understanding and they wrote that which was said in the night, and what otherwise was above their comprehension, and they did not know.

During the night they ate bread, I however spoke over the day and did not keep silence also during the night.

There were however during the 40 days written 204 books, and it happened as the 40 days were over, the Lord spake and said, the first books which you have written place openly that they be read by worthy and unworthy. The last 70 however keep, which thou for the wise of the people are entrusted with, for in these is the Wellspring of Understanding and a Well of Wisdom and a River of Knowledge and I did so.

Dear Brethren:

The Need and anxiety has mounted high, and the burden to great, that they nearly almost all crushed us into the dark grave, where all consolation ends, because we must complain day and night, that the Lord forsakes us, and in his righteous anger banishes us from his Sanctuary, which waste, and the heathen were called in for abuse, and we be destroyed here and there with mockery and scorn, under pure pressure lie under servants of the heathen and unbelievers, and must endure from such all troubles, so contrived. As there is nobody, who would be zealous for the law and the Sanctuary.

Therefore, dear brethren, have I thought on you a little again to raise, and to give again a consolation in your oppression; even to give a pattern, and as yet again help you, and raise up, and when the Hero comes set at defiance your enemies, and the soon coming Messiah with joy triumphant be able to receive JHVH who will lead you out through his predecessor and messenger the Elias, then will all your enemies lie at the footstool of your feet.

Then shout thou forsaken one, that those who oppressed thee, those will be destroyed with Fire, those however who did you good, will submit themselves to you at the time.

Guard yourself, however, that you do not engage with such, for they must bear the load of the Lord. Make yourself however liable for servants and maids; separate them among you, in order that their seed cease and die out. Yes they will be your wood and water carriers according to the words of the Lord.

Therefore have patience and suffer all oppressions. Avoid however also and shun all vice. Hold to the one God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and think how often that the Lord has freed you from your enemies, that, where you hold to him that finally your heartbreak came to him, that he freed you from the disgrace of the slanderer, because they say in Psalm 95 v. 2. Where is their God? Who does not recognize you. He will not otherwise be able than on his Covenant to remember, according to his promise, and a deliverance from Salem send; the Messiah will destroy and drive away, all the kings of the heathens before us, and conquer. Then will we with him reign, when he will then gather us from all the four ends of the World.

He will become our King and Messiah, be praised who comes there in the name of the Lord. Hosannah to the King! In order that you now in such oppression may have a consolation, so take yet the words of the great Prophet Jeremiah, to you in Cap. 5, v. 1 seg. With groans in your hearts, when the same in his misery furnishes, Lord think on us and our disgrace! Behold and look how it goes with us! Our inheritance is lost, and to the strangers becomes a portion! Our houses have they robbed us of, our mothers have become widows, and we forsaken orphans, who without father, and when we drink water and would have wood, we must pay for it. We are despised, and tired from care, yet is of the driving and anxiety no end. Ah! Our sins, which we commenced with our fathers press us. Our fathers are vanished, and we must yet bear their burden. Ah! The heathen press us about the neck, we are obliged to serve Assyria and have no salt to our bread. Ah! The hero bends not, when he in his anger grows furious, so spares he not to the 3rd and 4th generation. But then will he cease, when he will see that servants rule over us, he will rescue us from their hands, that we must not eat our bread with tears, as it were a theft. Ah! That the sword shall not eat up our enemies, for we are few, and must die of starvation, and become as the dead.

Our virgins they make servants and deflower such before our eyes, our old men and princes are wretchedly by them murdered. Our young men are put to death under the burden. The boys have sunk under the burden of wood. Also the place is no more existing, where our ancients sat, our harps have disappeared. Our head stands uncovered. The crown has been stolen from us. Our eyes become dim, because our heart is full of care. Ah pity us, that our enemies are so great. The foxes run over the mountain of Zion, which by the heathen there must lie waste. Ah! Lord! Who eternally remainest and whose Lordship is without end, thou will even now not quite forget us. For we have become a derision to our enemies in all 4 ends of the world. Dost thou not hear our cry? Wilt thou not eternally forsake us? Lord bring us again to thee and to our brethren, in our home, in order that our days be renewed with the age. Ah! Thou art too angry with us! Remember us yet, and give us compassion. We must bear disgrace which our fathers did wrong and deserved, and made themselves guilty, wittingly and unwittingly, from one tribe to another, thy anger is even so terrible that it will not cease.

Ah! Think yet on us again, and unite us with our brethren, who through thy hand are led out and rescued from Assyria. Now Lord remember, that we are thy property. Thou wilt hear us in order that from the enemies, to whom we are delivered, the haughtiness will be taken, who calumniate Thy Name and say: Your God has forsaken you, we will badly trouble and plague you and are regarded as dogs among them. Fulfill the prediction of the Prophet Zephaniah C.3 V. 12 seg. Which he calls in thy name. I will let thee remain a poor and downtrodden people because thy Lord thee will call. Then the wicked will cease with the remnant in Israel. Your mouth will no more be false and treacherous, without fear will thee find Rest and delight, then will Israel rejoice and the daughter of Zion rejoice, that their Savior and Rescuer has come, who releases them from their enemies. Then the chastiser will cease. The Messiah as thy King will then be with thee. Fear thee not Zion and let the hands not be tired, till you are again gathered in Jerusalem, for God thy Lord is with thee as a strong Savior, he will again be friendly to thee and rejoice over thee, because thy misdeeds he has forgiven and thy sins sealed up. Then will the Lord collect all the rest, as a clucking hen her chickens and one will hear the sound of the sack, but in all ends of the world. Then will thy tormenters desist from their laws, and thy disgrace will be terminated, for I will end it with the task-masters and release thee from the tormenters, and will all the lame collect from the exiles in all lands. I will make you before the enemies eyes be praised and honoured among all the people on earth. With power will I lead thee, says the Lord. The Prophets Malachai and Elias will I send to you at that time, and will gather you, ere the great day of the Lord comes for judgment over all heathens. Then will the children seek the heart of the father, and I will turn the heart of the father again to them, before the time comes, that the earth with the excommunication is smitten. Time is soon at an end. Dear Brethren suffer it, for it will not be long, the deliverance is near. In order that I make the beginning, therefore a consolation to you I have made possible, so have I here written down the secrets of our Fathers in order that the tribute you gave to the Romish Emperor, and you also under the bond of servitude can help the poor prisoners be released for the praise of the Holy God. Therefore will I teach thee the preparation of the Metals in Asophol and Diana, thereby with certain words and figures, of such a pattern, in order that with your hands you may lay hold of it, and how you shall prepare the Fire of the Lord, which was so lost, when the time comes to trouble your enemies therewith, that for your protection have it at hand, further will I show you the place where our fathers walled up and buried the secrets as Jerusalem was laid to waste by the emperor Titus Vespasianus, in order that you may tell your children, and also can show, for no heathen will find the place, but only the brethren.

The marks stand to this hour, that even a blind man among you will be able to find it, but only when the great Prophet Elias will be present. For if you have likewise all marks you will get it not till this time comes. Some, it is true have already gone out of their wits, and have sought and found the place, but at opening of the same has fire sprung out, that they have partly perished.

Therefore guard yourself, that this Book come not into your enemies hands, that the anger of the great God be never more raised over you.

Thou lettest the Heathen say, where is your God, who will help thee? Dear brethren, therefore are we troubled to say, for we have become for a scorn among the Heathen, but the Lord hears us not, but he has bloody Vengeance on our enemies, who make a Murderhole out of the Sanctuary; that we also must be expelled from our inheritance. But the great Jehovah will not eternally retain anger, but will gather us shortly to receive our inheritance again. In order that you know when the time comes to be informed where our Priests and the principal secrets of the time have concealed away, as Titus Vespasianus the Tyrant, who devastated and burned the Holy City and the Sanctuary, so mark. There will such be found at the entrance into the Holy of Holies towards the East, there is a vault 500 spans deep through a narrow entrance, and is covered with broad hewn thin leaf like stone, two knee joints deep Earth thereon, then again leaf like stone.

This is yet till this notice concealed, and will at the time when Elias with the Messiah comes, be found. Therefore dear brethren sign and groan with desire after such; for at that time your enemies everywhere will be extirpated.

There have been some brethren who received news of this secret from their fathers. These have ventured, and have there gone in order to help their brethren. This was a good intention only; because such were not from the race of Judah and also the marks they did not understand, for they began without instruction of the same to work, they found it not, Had they understood the marks, so would they have found the concealed, if the God of Abraham and Isaac had not held his hand over it. In order that you know of the Figure and exact direction learn that which you in the seeking would find, certainly, so have I, as I received them, drawn and would discover from my fathers: Lo when you come to the Place and find the entrance into the same towards the East on the right side, so clear a way, there you will find a stone, which two knee joints deep lies marked also פשיה; lift this up, it lies 200 spans deep, should the entrance have collapsed you must search further again, till you come to that place, there you will find all secrets, which our fathers possessed and from us you shall require. Then at this time will your enemies begin to badly plague you; but be comforted, you will then get the sword in your hands, that you may fight your enemies. In order that you also have a consolation, till the time comes, that you can come and help to loosen the poor imprisoned Brethren out of their bondage, so mark, what these before written figures show to you. You should know, that God the All Highest has promised a blessing, and will give it to you, that you should enjoy the marrow of the land and drink the dew of Heaven.

For our Father says:

*Pater ejus est sol.
Mater Luna,
Ventus portavit illum in ventre suo mari
Sal nitre nostrum in mari mundiversum
Sans sublimate aeris, invisibilem, congelatum.
Coelum, nostrum aqua in manus non Mandefacieientem.*

For the Spirit of the Lord is unfathomable, it hovers in the Air, it means the winged serpent and penetrates Man and all Creatures which are created on the Earth.

The winged Serpent points out to the Spiritus Mundi Universalem, and penetrates all things under the heavens. This is our Materia, so have we also of the coagulirten Air Repariren.

This is the Spirit; thus out of the Dew is drawn out, and with which our Salt is prepared. The undermost serpent however denotes our Materiam, everywhere to be found; it is earthly and also heavenly, then it the right Earth, Virginea et Adamica. That one however may know what it is, so is such to be found under the Vegetable Roots.

This possesses the Spirit Universalen and is neither animal, Mineral, nor Vegetable. It is a Magnet, so it itself draws the Proteum Universi and becomes thereby a Chaos of the wise Artificers.

Dear brethren mark the great secret that at all times the Perfect destroys the unseasonable, and brings it to naught, and in its nature changes, which both afterwards; veneficio caloris into an excellent Medicine can be elevated. That because their dependence is upon the Semina et forma essentialis omnium rerum a coelo stellato.

On whose account also in the metal a radius astrorum tangua parte formali in the earth will be generated, so have our old fathers said, the Generation of all Meals examinret, which form they names ex aqua per forma interram inspissata congeal, for the radii of the stars particularly Sol and Luna shine upon the Worlds continually and penetrate mediante aere et aqua within the same, and come in centro terra together, from thence they have a repercussionem aequalem through the whole Earth and back, but in the filtering inspissation of the water, and make a salt essence thereof, which in itself anew a heavy flowing Substance contrahirrt, as the arcanus is called and is the first metal. This mark, for it will through the constant heat be driven away, which is occasioned by the stars, says Daniel and is also boiled out, and is Asophol. With this Arcanum in a form of Salt out of the mine, or also on the earth it also makes one and the same an acid Liquorem, which the metal anew into his beginning transmits, which as the first is well to be observed. Take therefore, what lies before your feet, and of yourself with your feet treat on, for Hermes says: Pater ejus Sol, Mater Luna. Will you now dear brethren with this fatness of the earth enjoy and drink of the dew of the heaven; and with the winged serpent which moves in the earth, get so much and with another which is without wings, know to hear, in order that you can unite the lower with the upper.

Now hereto must you have a clean virgin Marcz, and such imbibe with dew as follows. When the time comes, that all begins to grow green and becomes a beautiful meadow, full of flowers, when the heaven is pure and clear, and the open air is full of lovely odours is swelling, pretty drops steams; very easily, when the Sol rises, make 2 or 3 round holes knee deep; the grass and turf with the flowers place on the side, the earth take out, the holes with other earth fill again full, and place the turf again thereon, in order that the mat or meadow ground get no damage, so have you the virgin Marcz. The red and yellow Marcz. The red and yellow Marcz particularly, which out of the vineyard is very precious thereto; also when you take them out of the hole they must be taken knee deep, in order that they be free from all roots, 24 hundred weight. That they however be not stoney, let such on the Mat lie spread out in order that the stars can therein work. This Marcz set 14 days and nights lie in clear and bright weather, should however rain come, cover such with thin wood strips or straw. When the 14 days and nights are over, and the Marcz is thoroughly seasoned, so let the Marcz be carried away in wooden vessels, and well covered. After this take a great cask, and make in such of straw and wood a grate; and lay such below in the cask, and thereon a quantity of Marcz; pour thereon dew, or Rain-water, taken from a thunder shower is very good, leave it 24 so standing, then make below on the cask a hole and fit a bung therein. And through it let the Water trickle down, till it all falls down. Pour again a fresh warm Water thereon, after 24 hours let it again run off. In the same manner proceed also with the remaining Marcz; and then pour such clean Water into a copper kettle, till it be quite full, and lay on such three parts and seethe down; pour the kettle, seethe it down again, till on the third part, and thus continue 10 or 12 times, when now at last all is seethed down, and the third part is yet in the kettle, so pour in another clean kettle, set it into cold sand some days so will a Salt crystallize. This take thereout and preserve well in a clean vessel, the remaining leave again to boil down to the half, set it down again and let it crystallize till all is crystallized; then continue. On this Salt pour clean dew, in order that it will dissolve. Then filter it and coagulate it so often, till it is pure and crystallized and prepared, so have you the right Salt Marcz, which in the Sea of the World hovers and is concealed, without which nothing can be engendered and born, and also have you the fruit bringing Salt and the prima Materialis Universal Marcz prepared and primam materiam of the old Wine.

Take of this Salt 32 shekels heavy put it in a clean vessel of Aures, rub it small, mix among that of its own Marcz, wherefrom the Salt has been lixivated, which before heat thoroughly, mix it with the Salt amongst each other and imbibe it with dew or Rain water, place the vessel in the Sun and when it is dry, again, again imbibe, and so continue, in order that the Spiritus Aeris Universal may yet more frequently insinuate itself therein for scarce 4 weeks, then make balls thereof, with this, fill such a Vessel.

Figure 2

Fill this half full, so of good material burnt, lay this in an oven, and another great vessel attach thereto, in which you before put 2 measures of distilled dew Spirit is poured, lute this well, and distill through Algir Fire heruo termon, humor, Algir, a Spiritum and Salt volatile, thereof you have the flying spirit; thus continue with fresh Materia, till you have from such a salt driven all the volatile Spirit. Now you must take this Volatile Spirit and put it in such a Vessel as is here represented (Figure 3).

This is prepared from Aures, and place such a head thereon with a long nozzle, place the vessel in a Kettle, with Water Bahum Maria, and distill carefully all the Phlegm over, afterwards take it out; when it is cold and place the Vessel in an Alembic with sand filled up, and distill the Spirit over, this repeat, for his wings fail him yet, therefore, you must distill per se, 7 times, till it is as pure as the tears from the Eye, at the 7th time it give it its Salt Volatile in order that with it, it may rise, or lift it a part. Give finally strong Fire so will fly the flying Serpent, and mount up in white flowers, take this and let it once again rise, till it has become pure and transparent, and preserve it well.

Then take all the matter remaining behind in the vessel, whereof the Spirit is driven, and bruise small, and pour distilled dew or Rain water thereon, and extract a Salt thereof; This purify so often till it becomes as beautiful and clean and transparent as a diamond; so have you the Serpent without Wings. Take care however, that you lose sight of nothing in the work, in order that the Pondus of Nature may fully remain. Take the fixed Salt, rub it small, and put it in a long glass vessel of Aures (Figure 4).

Pour the Spiritus and your Volatile Salt thereon and shut the vessel well in order that nothing thereof may fly, sit it in a mild warmth, so will the flying dissolve the fixed, and join; the flying serpent will eat the fixed one, and will out of both become a fiery creeping dragon; Here you have the Quintuum Essentiam and the blessing, which God the Lord laid in the Marcz, which is of the dew of heaven and of the fatness of the earth. Gen. 27 V. 28, 29; and the life of all things which are created. This liquor is sweeter than sugar.

In order that you my dear brethren may also further know what you should do with this blessed liquor, mark this.

Take of Ophiris Sol 1 shekel heavy, make it into thin leaves, put it into such a little glass and pour 4 shekels heavy of this noble liquor thereon (Figure 5)

Place the little glass in mild warmth, so will the Sol dissolve mildly to a high yellow liquor, and a grey Earth will precipitate to the bottom therefrom. Then separate your clear solution in such a vessel that three parts of the same remain empty, therein place your Liquor, and place it, in the Name of God in the secret Oven (Figure 6).

And give it a soft Fire Algir, which should be a B.M., vapouring heat for 40 days and nights, till all has gone to Putrefaction, and become black, which the ancients have called the Crows head; then place it into the Ashes and give strong Algir, so that the Fire is so strong as the Sun, when it is at its highest; so will appear the wonder of Nature, wit all its colours, like to a peacocks tail, then strengthen the Algir, yet that it does not kindle, and appears after 40 days to the white, the Moon light, and enters Diana in her snow white glittering smock. Give it yet 40 days and nights in the 4th grade of Fire. Here must your vessel be concealed in the ashes, when it has stood in this Grade for 40 or 50 days, so will the red Lion appear and come to pass, like a carbuncle, yet like a yolk of an egg will again separate itself. This is now the right Quintessence of which a little piece thrown on Saturn, pierces it through, and makes it Sol, for it is pure Tincture.

Dear brethren you shall also know, that when you dissolve Sol with this heavenly liquor, it is a strong medicine for all infirmities of the body, and as your needs require, you make mankind wise, because the strength of the body, it strengthens, and removes mankind from all need. You shall, however, dear brethren, know of all things, that this Universal Liquor, before you alloy with Asophel, must be made metallic and effective, so to say, as the first effect to the metallic Tincture is in two ways; first with Mercury Vive purified, which through the liquor, also becomes a Water, for it has been in the beginning nothing other than a Salt Water, and this is the right key when explained, and so place the faeces themselves, for as we proceed, as the Author teaches.

The other manipulation however proceeds thus far.

Take the Mineram Saturni, which is nothing other, than a clear volatile seed of the Sol and Luna; beat it small, when the same is separated from all rock, pour the liquor therein so will this blessed Minera dissolve in it. The clear solution pour off, and pour more liquor on, when all is dissolved, pour the clear solutions together in an Acuris, place it in a cool place and so will wonderful crystals shoot forth; so can this wonderful salt in a different manner be brought to a Tincture.

There is yet a way to obtain this secret, namely thus: Take the purified Salt before the Spiritus is driven off, and make it right dry, and put it in such a vessel, whereof one distills, place the same with the Salt in a B.M. or in Horse-dung, the B.M. however must be constant, and for so long till only the Salt itself changes into an Oily, unctuous Liquor and separates from all uncleanness.

Pour the clear from all Faecibus, into a clean glass, and place it in B.M., and distill all phlegma carefully over. There will however be very little, and keep in such heat till it again coagulates, then place the glass again in fresh horse-dung to putrefy, and to dissolve, so will it again dissolve, and then again coagulate it again, and this repeat, till that only the Salt is fixed and in the Fire, flows like Wax without diminution. When you now have it so far, keep it well preserved.

Take Ophiris Sol and dissolve it in a Water Gaza, and when it is all dissolved, then distill all of it over in a glass vessel, and pour Water thereon, and dissolve it anew, and distill the Water again therefrom, repeat this oftines, give at the last a strong Fire, so the Water Gaza goes mostly over, dissolve it yet again, and put in the solution of the Rhystone, so will the Sol draw it to itself. Distill the Water again therefrom till it turns to a powder; place this in a closed glass in the Fire, and so the Phyton will fly and leave the Sol, as a not solid Earth, quite open and porous. This Earth sweeten several times with clean water, and dry it, of such a powder take 1/2 shekel heavy, and from the above liquor or Lapide Alkahest 4 shekels heavy, rub it in a glass of Acures together, and put it in an Alingel, seal it up, that nothing can come in; place the vessel in the furnace, and give it Algir Fire, till it flows together to a red stone or powder.

Dear brethren with this can you also do wonders, for it transmutes all known metals into Sol.

When you also have the above Universal Mercury, which you have prepared out of the Volatile snake and the fixed, poured on the Albaon, so in the end such is green.

For there lies in such the life of all metals and minerals as the right key, and this concentrated Spiritus Mundi, can in all things be used in exaltations virtutia Elixiris de prolongandum vitam.

For Heaven and Earth are preserved through this. This is the right green Alazagi, with which one can do wonders, as I already before taught, and will show afterwards in the proper place.

Dear brethren, in order that before you accomplish this secret work and also have food and nourishment; so will I teach you some small primitive work which in all places you can do. Take melted Almusater Alatren, have it and Celuvialatel, rub it amongst each other, put it in a strong stone vessel, and sublimate up again, and repeat for the third time, and so you get a Gold Sublimate, which you shall also require, let 32 shekels heavy of the pure Copper Metal, in a strong Earthen Vessel prepare, let this flow in a strong Fire, when flowing thin, add the fat sublimate 4 shekels heavy to it, let it flow one hour, then pour it out, so have you the great Secret thereby to accomplish a living.

Yet must you remember this necessary manipulation, when you have a right fat Marcz, and with dew or Water Grandi extrahiret so now you boil such down, so expert that in it a Salt can crystallize, and on account of the great fatness and fat viscosity of this Salt. When you see this, so let it safely evaporate to a thick liquor. This liquor is far better than the crystals. With such you can go to work, that you mix therewith so much of its own thoroughly heated and lixiviated Earth, and then distill over, as has been taught, and so you get at once so much of this Volatile Spirit.

The fixed salt remains behind, which can be lixiviated and goes in the work as said before. Guard yourself however that these Secrets come not into your enemies hands.

Conceal it from them as you only can, till the time of deliverance comes. Then rejoice the forsaken daughters, that the Lord and Holy Adonai has made an end to your ignominy.

Plate I

Number 2

I, Abraham Eleazar continue to teach you Dear Brethren, as our Fathers in the Wilderness sinned against the Lord through Idolatry, Moses made for them a brazen Serpent and stuck it to a Cross, that such would be seen by all the people, and they again from their merited plaque might recover.

Therefore know, when you can fasten with a Golden Nail, the Serpent Python on his Cross, so will you want nothing in Wisdom.

Therefore is Nature most hidden and this is the whole secret in the Art, that we draw out from this secret Materia the Spirit Phytonis and Pirthe Sol, as the Sulphureous Water, as the strength from Fire and Air of imperceptible form, separate with small trouble; therefore is it full of Spirit, and holds in itself a fat fruitfulness.

This will now be driven out and separated, that as a clear Water and appears to the eye as a tear, i.e., Spiritus Mercurii. This loosens the common Python and makes it also a Water, yes to an Aldibid.

That however you know and become acquainted with the materiam; so is such our old Albaon Abacschozdii, is a Minera, so there in the mountains is found, and such is of three different sorts. The first is in all its parts, is used by surgeons, it is right to say a volatile ore while it stands as pure Tincture or Seed, so however volatile, while all of the Fire is taken away, till very little. When such is melted it gives a little sparks. This is best. The other appears yellow and also with little black sparks, is often found in yellow gravel or sand, and has much auriferous volatile seed. The third is grey and white and a very poisonous kind, a right Saturn, which has the power, with its poisonous breath to kill. Therefore one must be very careful when working with this, when in a dry form, to get its sweat.

In the wet way it is more sure, for when this old one is put into a bath, it betakes itself into it. Thou shalt also know that this old one is of a saline property, therefore such is dissolved only into a bad liquor, so from Kay and Salt is the sapient crude amalgam prepared, this is through a penetrating poisonous Salt, which is a pure Python, heightens the bath, that this old one himself should dissolve in such, till to a little, which the Fera of the heat of the Body is, the clear solution is poured off, such is put in a cold place, and so is produced the Old One in quite another figure, in beautiful crystals, and also it is with the other two preceding particularly, but the first is not so poisonous.

When however this Old One is placed in his bath, so will his body be divided and then appears its inward Salt Balsam, which, is pure Tincture, and this material by many, will be thrown away on the hills, and also such a material is found in the pits, because they often throw such away, because it gives from itself a strong smell, and also often kills the men, for the 3 sorts, is already of the Spiritus Mundi Universi made volatile, therefore such blows without intermission.

The first and other Materia is not so volatile, yet has in itself the Spiritus Mundi buried, in this mineral essence, and has a right to say, is made a Magnet, and is inspissirt in full and free operation and in full course to become a Metal, but not yet to a Metal or Mineral, nevertheless form a Minerali inbutus.

This now is the Materia, which the wise choose:

Materia non putative, sed vera e

*Experimentis comprobata, material

Dear brethren, take the same, this massa which women color the hair, so can you in eligenda massa not miss, for without the Dragon Phyton can nothing be done in this Art. Therefore direct all your thoughts to the Phyton. Nam est un Phytone quicquid queerunt, Sapientes. For nothing in the world has such a power to destroy Metals.

As the Phyton alone, but, dear brethren it is not the common Phyton, but our Spirit Phytonis, although with the common Phyton, our Spirit Phytonis is infinitum multiplicirt, for our Spirit Phytonis transmutes the common into its nature, as it also changes the nature of Sol and all Metals, for it is the Primum Ens Metallorum, that is, the Spring of the Ancients, the flower with golden leaves and so from pulling and tearing the poisonous dragon is covered and preserved.

Make our Old One a Heavenly Green Salt. And from such a Phytonis, a living water which burns not; place Ophiris Sol in the solvent and putrefy in order that it becomes black, white and red. With this you can vanquish the World.

Therefore dear brethren take heed to my teaching, for I will reveal here a greater secret to you, and with two ways show you how to obtain the great Quintessence.

Take our Materium Magnesiam, Plumbum Nigrum, also called Bismuth or Puch, such as comes from the Hills; 10 or 12 tit; make such an Old One into a fine powder, after you have cleansed all rock from it, and put this powder into several broad Alazabus, place these so that the Luna can shine thereon, and the dew may fall therein, but no sun dare shine thereon, and no rain come thereto, and let it stand thus 4 weeks, you must however move the powder round every day. When the time is past, take this powder, as our Old One, and put it in a crooked necked Acures (Figure 7).

Lay such in an Alazabus filled with sand, and that the sand covers the Acures and place it in the Oven and give it Algir Fire, hermo, termon humor, algir, lutirt, and from this great ball of Acures, that you can see how it goes, and distill a sweet, yet penetrating Spirit over, which is white, which is the doves of Hermetis. Continue heating till no more comes over, then let it cool. Take the receiver off, in which Our Old has concealed his Eva, take the distilled Spirit and mix with the residue or Caput Mortuum, and place into such a Vessel (Figure 8).

Place this vessel in the sand, up to the level of the liquid and distill and cohobate several times, distill this gently over in order that the Spirit Phytonis comes over clear like a tear, and is cleansed from all impurities. Reserve this Spirit and take the remainder or Caput Mortuum out of the crooked necked vessel, and put it in a vessel of burnt earth, put it into the Fire and calcine it strongly, then extract the Salt out of it with distilled water, and purify it; so have you the Adam, made out of the earth and prepared.

Now you must make this living, and give him his Eva. Rub this Salt small, and put it in an Alingel, and pour the Spirit on the dead body and firmly stop the glass and close I well, place in a gentle heat, so will Adam take Eva to himself, and become one, and so you have here in short a Liquorem Universalem and with this you can rightly dissolve the Ophiris Salt, and then coagulatione et fixatione in verum semen suri lapidem philosophorum redigirre. Drear Brethren I will not withhold from you through the help of the All Highest how to prepare this secret Phytonis Liquorem; so take such a Liquorem and pour it on fresh Albaon made into a fine powder in a great vessel of Acures, shut it well, and place it in a gentle heat, and you will see a Smaragdine colour. Pour the Extraction together in a clean vessel. On the remaining Corpus pour a distilled Water, and extract the remaining tincture. Pour this off into another clean vessel, and distill off the water and add this liquor to the other extractions, and place this in a cool place, so will a Smaragdine Salt crystallize, of great strength. Take out this Salt remainder, leave in a mild heat, to evaporate a little, and again let it Crystallize, and you will get ore Salt, and you will have the real Green Lion of the Ancients.

This is a living Salt. Take this Salt that you have extracted from this Earth, mix this Salt with the Earth or caput mortuum, rub the small, and make little balls thereof, moisten these balls with the liquor, so that nothing foreign is added, put such in a crooked necked Acures (Figure 9); lay this in an Oven in Sand, and your vessel should be covered with sand, lay also a large ball thereon and well closed, that the Arcki does not go through and distill over; by Algir a flowing Spirit comes over, pour this back into the vessel, cohobate and distill over again with strong Algir, then take the Receiver off, and preserve this well.

The remaining Corpus bruise, and rub it small, and extract the Salt thereof, and purify it, and pour your Liquor upon it, place this liquor so often, till all the Salt comes over with the Liquor, and put this Liquor into a high Vessel (Figure 10).

Distill all moisture therefrom, so you will find in Fundo a beautiful pure Oil as heavy as Plumbum, also pour this Spirit, which from its moisture you must have previously separated, upon your Oil, and draw off several times mildly, till your Oil is as thick as a flowing brook, remains behind; thus you get the Gum of your sister Maria, and the true Chaos of our Fathers.

Then put it into a long necked Aures, and carefully melt the neck closed, put it in a mild heat, so will the Materia resolve into a crystalline Spirit and settles as a brown red earth. This clear water is the Columba Diana. Such pour carefully from the Earth and rectify, and well preserve it, i.e., lutit that you clean it from all impurities, and free it from all Phlegmata. Let this flow over 7 times, so have you the prepared Phelgmata. Let this flow over 7 times, so have you the prepared Phytionis. This now is the life of all things. Preserve it as a great treasure, for this Bird does not willingly let itself be seen by the Godless of the World.

Take the humidity or Phlegma, and extract out of our Earth the red Pirte or fiery red Lion. This solution pour all together, till nothing more is extracted, and distill the Phlegma therefrom, so remains in the vessel a red glancing Materia, as a Blood and the right flowing Ophiris: Sol of the Ancients, the Blood of the Dragon, take this and preserve it well.

The remaining Faeces take all together and calcine and extract the Salt of splendour. Clarify it that it becomes like a diamond. This salt rub in a clean vessel of Aures among the Blood of the Dragon, and pour the Columbian Dianae thereon, close them together and put it in a mild heat, let it stand, till they are all united, so you get the right lac virginis of the Ancients, with which one can do wonders.

When now all is again a Liquorem, mediante circulatione redigirt, and take of this Liquor 10shekels heavy and of the Ophiris Sol or Luna one shekel heavy made into thin leaves, and put it together in an Alingel, close it hermetically, put it in our Oven to stand in digestion and circulation, till all is dissolved, then let it stand in Algir Fire, till it has gone through all the colours, so you will get a blood-red glittering Carbuncle, a very great Medicine, which is unsearchable.

This is now a Ferment. Melt 4 shekels of Ophiris Sol, and let it flow in a good vessel of burnt Earth, place upon this 4 shekels heavy of the Tincture, and it will penetrate the Sol, and change it into a blood-red essence. So is the King of the Ancients and the right Red nature born.

Of this will 1 grain, change 1 shekel heavy of other metals into Gold. Or when you add Luna, in the conjunction in Kuna change. Then mark, when you add the Luna so you get a stone or Tincture on Luna, also a great Arcanum in Medicine, and the Tincture will appear violet glittering.

Dear brethren, the Ancients have not had one Way in preparing of this Mystery. For some, when the Columba Dianae they had separated from the Chaos, they have allowed it to fly 7 times, in order to separate from it all Phlegmate.

Then you have taken this, and a purified Phytion, poured into a crooked necked glass, so as the Phytion is eaten by the other, then drive it over again, so that only the Earth remaining, which throw away.

There have some that also raised, and have increased their Columba Dianae to infinitum, for if you distill it several times it becomes stronger. Then have you out of the red Earth, which Water Adamicum called, the soul, the Life, the Fire of the Ancients; yes, the red fiery Lion extrahirt, the Phlegma distilled off, till it becomes a glittering Blood which they name the Blood of the Purple Snail.

This is to be well preserved, then take Ophiris Sol in leaflets and place into an Alingel, pour on the Columba Dianae so much, until the gold is dissolved; to this solution pour the Blood of the Dragon, and have brought Fire to Fire, for this is most hidden, and without this in the work, you could not in an Eternity boil out, so has this Liquor become as Blood. Then take the faeces, and strongly calcine, and with the Phlegmate extract the salt, and purify it, till it becomes clear, and like a Diamond, then rub it small and put it in an Alingel, and pour on so much of the gory Phytionis that the Salt will dissolve. The glass must be Hermetically sealed, and then placed in the Fire, and allowed to go through all the colours till the Quintessence has become firm, and then take it out of the fire, rub it small again, and sprinkle it with the fiery gory Phytion, and again Hermetically seal the vessel, and allow it to go through the colours again, and then have you found the augmentation, which can be practiced in infinitum.

Then take of this Mystery, when it has become fluid, and have Ophiris Sol purified and melted with Puck Bismuth and in the fire allowed to fume.

This is the King, which is eaten by the Wolf, and again Vomited forth. Place 8 shekels weight of this purified Gold, and when it is flowing, throw in two shekels weight of the Tincture, so has the Sol become a clear Tincture. Of this Tincture add again 8 half ounces of Sol and mixed together, place this mixture into a vessel, and pour on the fiery Dragon, place it in the Oven and allow it to go through all the Colours, and continue this till the Tincture again becomes fluid, then take this out of the Fire, and add a part of this Tincture with melted Sol, until all the fiery Liquor is consumed. Then take this Tincture out of the Fire, and add an equal part of melted Ophiris Sol and then of 1 more part is necessarily employed, and then another part is added thereto. And then the Columba Dianae is thereon active.

Others of the dear Ancients have before in the Columba Dianae dissolved Ophiris Sol, and have fixed and activated this Liquor therein, which is better, and the Work is increased in infinitum. Of the Tincture add 1 grain to 16 shekels weight of the Phytion thrown into the Fire, and so it becomes the most lovely Ophiris Sol.

The more times the Tincture is reiterated the higher it becomes, even as you have assisted in the propagation, and so it has become a great Treasure.

Dear brethren; the dear Ancients have gone another way, that after you get the Green Lion, as the Salt of Nature, so have they taken such a heavy Salt, and in the high pot (Figure 11) they have placed it, and closed it well, and given it a moist steamy heat, or placed in Horse-dung, and let this secret Salt stand so long until it dissolves itself into a Green Liquor, then they have poured this into another high glass, put a head thereon, with a nozzle, and hung it in the Ashes to distill, till the Columba Dianae began to flow, when it was all distilled over, they poured it back, thus distilling and cohobating till nothing remained behind but a brown Earth.

This afterwards they extracted the Phelgm from the extracted Spirit, and so obtained a red fiery water, this have they put with each other in a clean vessel and distilled the phlegma thereof, till there remained a blood red Dust. Out of the remainder a Salt is extracted, which remainder is first calcined, the Salt clarified, till it became Crystallized, so have they the new earth prepared, then they proceeded in the rest of the work as before taught, and got the great Mysterium.

Some of the dear Ancients have our Old one a bath prepared from the Spiritus Mercurii as formerly taught; and such with its own moisture (blood) dissolved and closed.

Then have they prepared a Salt from such, and from such a volatile Spirit a blood red Oil is driven, further they have taken the pure Earth, in which the Brilliant Salt was concealed, and they poured the red Liquor thereon, and distilled and cohobated till all passed over.

Then have they put this liquor in a clean vessel, and dissolved Ophiris Sol in it, the Earth they have taken out of the above vessel, and this Liquor poured on, only one time, this they have distilled off per Algir, and again poured thereon, and this so often continued, till nothing more rose up, then they have poured a fresh Liquor thereon, and then continued the work therein till all the Liquor remained together, fixed and flowing in the Fire like a Wax.

This blood red salt have they alloyed with Ophiris Sol, and melted with each other, so has it become a Tincture, with which they however tinged the other Metals, and have transmuted them into Sol.

Dear brethren our Ancients have yet further seen and taken the Universal Key, whose preparation likewise in the beginning was taught, prepared from the Spiritus Mundi Universal.

This Liquor have they poured on our Old ones, which they first beat small, and placed each other in a Vessel of Aures, in a small heat, till the Liquor is tinged to a grass green colour. The Solution they have poured off, and another poured thereon, till all is extracted, they have poured the clear Solutions together, and distilled 1 part of the Phlegmatic Spirit off, and placed the vessel in a cool place, till a pretty Smaragdine Salt was crystallized. The remainder they have taken and distilled one half of it off, and placed the remainder in a cool place, then is there more green Salt crystallized, and the remainder they have reheated till all the Salt was crystallized. Then have they taken this Salt as a great treasure, and this is in truth the right Green Lion; for out of this Niter is a Spiritus mercurii prepared with a blood red Oil of great effect, and the dear Ancients have prepared in this way the great Mysterium, then what concerns the after work, so is such all one work. You may also in the wet way choose the one you wish. The after work in the wet way is the Menstruum Universale.

Take putrefied Urine and the acetum destillatum Spirit of Tartar amalgam and putrefy with each other, then put Calx Vive in a high alembic, put a still thereon, which has a hole above, and well luted. When this has happened, then put the Alembic in sand, and give Fire, now when you think that the Alembic is heated, pour through a filter of the mixed Liquor, through the hole in the still, so will the Calx Vive be heated, you must however close the hole firmly and must not pour too much on the Calx Vive at once, otherwise it would run over (pour it on gradually), then will thy Spirit go over, collect it, and rectify it yet once per se. With this you can extract from each Minera its Anima, whenever you wish; the menstruum can be prepared without Fire, but the Calx Vive must be good, and is also better in the Operation, when one will prepare this, so instead of Urine take a strong Spirit of Tartar; so also must everything be well rectified and clean, then it is practicable.

With this Menstruo extract the life and Spirit out of Old Albaon, and according to instruction work in the Wet Way.

Also have I again, dear brethren, shown a way, that you can assist, and come to the help of your poor brethren, who are otherwise in need and misery. Forsake not the poor Widows and Orphans. Be very reticent. Laud and Praise the name of God, His Holy Name Jehova. Cry, that the air resound, Hosanna, to the Son of David our brother, Our King, Our Deliverer, Our Saviour.

Number 3

Dear brethren, one might well wonder, how our dear Ancients hit on the thought to prepare a Medicine, which has alone happened through the inspiration of the great Jehovah, that the Metals could be ripened and transmuted higher, and how therewith they went to work, that they found the Primum Materian.

Dear brethren, one says: Titulus Inventionis may be often Potior Pars Inventionis.

As they saw that Sol and Luna were generated by so long boiling in the Earth of Nature, so must we freely wonder, how yet the dear Ancients fell on the thought, that through Art and the help of Nature, they could renew the way, and bring to pass by the Earth, Sol, Luna in such a short time.

Alone the dear Ancients have learned through diligent speculation of Nature, what was their origin before the commencement, and out of What the Life of all creatures took its origin, and how the Generation and commencement of the Metals may have their Origin. This the dear Ancients have very closely observed, examined and found, that all metals took their origin ex mercury or Phytone, thence are they driven, and have taken the Phytone, and have also therewith gone to work.

They have however experienced harm with such because it has become too metallic; so have they sought an other materiam, in which the Spirit Mercury is not yet made metallic; and found such likewise among the Minerals, and afterwards called this with divers names, as Albaon in Arabic, in Latin, Plumbum Nigrum, Abackhozodi, a black heavy stuff; they have also called it Magnesium, Bismuth.

Our Ancients have called the stuff Puch, it is however not the common Stibium, but a black grey rock, often with white and other beautiful colours adorned, heavy in weight, as I already taught you.

Will you now dear brethren go by the old road, so will I teach you shortly and plainly, not with many names, or in Figures, as the Egyptians left it behind to their children, which are not to be divined or unriddled, but clearly and brotherly.

Formerly I have pointed out and shown to you the wet way, and how you can find and prepare in such a way the Mysterium, and such a way is without danger.

This dry way, that I will describe to you and teach you, is somewhat dangerous, yet if you follow my teaching, then it will not fall heavy on you, for as I have described to you in all my Figures throughout, two ways, so to the intelligent it is not difficult to understand, and have also wished to show that in this Figure [3]; for here you see flowing from a desert a white Lunar Water, which is the old progenitor of all things, prepared in two ways:

Firstly however, you must understand, what of the two ways is taken; namely the first proceeds from the Fatness of the Earth, out of the Primordial Chaos. The other from our black heavy lump; that however the serpents crawl in the grass, and is of divers colors, the Phytone in the dry way, for this promptus is very poisonous, yet some times it ascends in the hills, and so becomes a flower, nearly medicinal, whilst then it is not so poisonous.

Dear brethren, take our hard lumps, and make them into an inconceivable powder. Mix this powder with some small broken stones amalgam, so that in the sublimation, the powder does not melt, place this in a Pot, as you see, and have a small Oven (Figure 12).

The pot must be of good burnt earth, on this put a great glass head, and place a vessel before and give Fire, yet that the Vessel is high up in the oven; when you see, that no more steam rises, then open a Register, Mark, that you do not lute the vessel, for otherwise it would be dangerous. When all the vapour is gone, open the other Register, then will the white flower mount up, or the Bird of Hermes, as the Egyptians call it. Stop the Fire, yet take heed, that the material melts not, thus you should before mix something among the Materiam, that it does not melt.

Should the head become full of flowers, you must proceed till nothing rises up, take the flowers from the heads and preserve well. If there goes a little Liquor over, wash out the flowers from the head with this Liquor, for you have its life in such.

In such a manner you can make as many flowers as you wish, and when you have a pretty tolerable portion, gather them together and preserve them.

I say again, guard yourself, that you do not destroy the flowers with too strong of a heat.

Take again a fresh Materiam, rub therein all your ascended Materiam, place this in the vessel, and place the head again thereon, give the Fire carefully, then will more flowers ascend, when the head is full, take it off. These flowers can be prepared also in this annexed vessel, that one puts several heads, one over the other, for otherwise, when the head is full, you must take it off, and put another thereon, which causes much annoyance in the work, and many flowers are lost.

Continue this till all the flowers have ascended, then bring all the flowers together into the distilled Liquor, put fresh Materiam into the vessel, and sublime the flowers, and so continue until you have released the Phytone from 12 tit of the Materiam: i.e., when you have the flowers from 12 tit of the Materiam, you have enough. Then from our Albaon ascends the most, the remaining Materiam preserve well. Take all the flowers together, and weigh them, when you have 1 tit in weight, proceed thus.

Take Luna and shut it up in a strong Water prepared from Kali potash and Salt Earth. When it is thus shut up, then pour Water thereto, in which common Salt is dissolved, then will the Luna be precipitated, which sweeten well with Water and make dry; take of this 16 shekels heavy, rub the precipitated Luna with 1/2 of the flowers and being well mixed place this in a vessel of Aures, place in the Oven, as above mentioned in Sand, and heat it carefully (Figure 13).

Then will the flowers ascend much prettier and clearer than in the commencement, and a Spirit like Water will go over. Take your sublimed flowers, rub them again among the remainder and sublime it 4 times more, then it becomes like a diamond, and is not so poisonous. The remainder can be melted and purified and thus recover the Luna that is left; or you can sublime the Columba Dianae 2 times more, then will they get a great brilliance; take this up for it is now already Medicinal, and no more poisonous. The other half of the flowers, as you above preserved, take and make with the Water Gaza out of the Ophiris Sol, a Dust, which sweeten well, rub it among the flowers and bring it into a vessel, and do, as you were shortly before taught, and let this rise also 4 times from the Fecibus, then let it rise two times more, then have you the Phytions golden winds prepared, and then is ready the noble flower Chelidonis; then have the Ancients taken the Residuum, and burnt to ashes; out of these ashes they have prepared a Salt, which was clear and clean; this they have rubbed small and weighted; with 6 shekels heavy of this Salt, they have rubbed 2 parts of these flowers, and put it in an Alingel, and placed this in an Oven in Sand, and let it stand in Algir Fire, and in a short time has the Black One appeared, and then it goes through all the colours to a White Stone. This they have taken out, and rubbed again 1 part therein of the Columba Dianae, and again put it in the Oven. This they have repeated 7 times, then they have let flow four shekels of Luna, and then thrown into it 2 shekels of the Tincture, and let it flow well, and so have they got a Tincture to transmute other metals into Luna, and 1 grain will transmute 12 to 16 shekels of other metals into Luna; Also they have proceeded with the golden flowers, and have gotten the Red Tincture, to tinge other metals into Sol.

Dear brethren, the Ancients have seen and found yet another way; they have dried up the flowers from its own Corpus 6 to 7 times, till these flowers have become glittering and pure. Then they have taken and weighed them, and rubbed them with the flowers of Phythoana Anima, and put this together into a vessel, and sublimed in a mild Fire, so has one Phytion the other swallowed up, mounted out and up.

This they have taken out and let ascend alone aloft per se, so have they obtained the Phytion of the Wise Masters, and then multiplied it. This they have named their White Flower. Which however the Ancients understood nothing, and it is not true, that one could increase with the Phytone alone, for they have taken the Residuum, and calcined this to the half, and from this prepared a Salt, this Salt they mixed among the other uncalcined Materiam, and placed this in a good vessel of burnt Earth, then have they melted it with each other, and after the first part evaporated, got a brown red Acures, this have they rubbed small, and weighed, and rubbed again 1 part of this Acures with 3 parts of the white flower, and put with one another in a vessel, and let ascend, and this have they repeated till the white flower ascended red (Figure 14).

This they have named the red Lion and also their Sol, for the Pietre out of the Acures has jointly ascended, and this they have alone preserved, as also 1 part of the Acures.

The remainder have they taken, and calcined with strong Fire, and made a clarified Salt out of it; then they rubbed the Acures therein, and also the red Flowers, and put such in a stone vessel of burnt Earth, and put this in the Fire, and let the Fire commence slowly, so has the red Flower flown jointly, then have they continually struck the vessel, and taken this out clean, and rubbed it small, and preserved it.

Dear brethren, when you have come so far, then you have the Tincture in the Oven Fire cleaned and multiplied (Figure 15).

You have taken a vessel, as I have shown, of good burnt earth, and put such into the fire; take 4 parts of the red flower, and 1 part of the white Phytionis, rubbed amongst each other in a vessel of Agate and Acures, put into the crucible, so has the red flower spread over the white one, and with great luster with each other allied and dissolved, and made also your Tincture in little time; then have you taken the vessel out of the Fire, and such laid down, and carefully picked it all out; and then again rubbed small, and rubbed amongst 4 parts to 1 part of the Columba Dianae and then melted, and thus you have repeated 7 times, and then you must cease, because your Tincture is liquid, and it penetrates all vessels; of this take 4 parts, and carried such to 8 parts of Ophiris Sol, and so it becomes a red penetrating Stone.

This you have divided into 2 parts, and rubbed 1 part among 2 parts of the penetrating Tincture and also put therein of the Columba Dianae, and then melted with each other, and repeated this 7 times, then have you augmented your Tincture in Infinitum; the half you reserved of this Tincture melted with Sol, you have employed for your maintenance, for 4 grains of this Tincture transmutes 16 shekels heavy of other metals in flux into most beautiful Sol.

You have also prepared your Tincture, with the white Flower per se, or with the addition of the fabricated Luna, the most you have only prepared per se, and increased with the Phytone, and then have you taken Ophiris Sol, and made it into and incomprehensible Dust, well sweetened, of this you have taken 1 shekel heavy, and 2 shekels of the Columba Dianae rubbed thereon, and placed this in the Alingel, or into another vessel as here stands Marked (Figure 16).

This vessel is closed well together, and place this vessel in an Oven placed in sand, and let it stand till the Columba Dianae has ascended, then take out the vessel, and rub the Ascended again amongst the Lowest, and thus repeated so often, till it has flown together firm.

Then take this Red Tincture out, and again rub therein 1 part of the Columba Dianae, and this again put into the vessel and make it firm, and this should be repeated 3 times.

Then must you cease, because the Tincture has become so penetrating; take this out and weigh it, and let 1 part of the Tincture flow with 4 parts of Sol, and so the Sol will become pre Tincture; from this Tincture put in 1/2 of it again and so proceed as before taught, with the other half you can transmute the base Metallica into Sol, 1 grain tinges 10 shekels heavy into Sol.

Yet a narrow and secret way have the Old Ancients proceeded. After you have prepared the white flowers, as the Columba Dianae, so have they caused them to ascend from the calcined Faecibus, till it has become in some degree auriferous.

Then they have calcined the Residuum strongly, and extracted the Salt with distilled Water, purified and crystallized.

Such Salt they have rubbed small and rubbed 4 half ounces Salt to 1 half ounce of fine beaten Ophiris Sol, and melted them, they got a blood red Sol, of this they have taken 4 parts, and rubbed therein 1 part of Columba Dianae, and put this into such a vessel (Figure 17) and such well preserved, put into our oven in sand, and let stand so long, till it was incorporated. Then they have taken it out again, and rubbed 1 part of the Columba Dianae, and put again into the double vessel, placed in sand, and then proceeded, till the 7th time.

This Tincture they have fused with Ophiris Sol, of this they reserved half, the other half is mixed with 1 part of the Columba Dianae, and thus repeated 7 times. This Tincture is more penetrating than the one before.

The nature is most hidden, for the dear Ancients from illumination of the great Jehovah saw yet further, and prepared their Tincture in such a manner.

Thus they manufactured their white flowers, and so do they have all the Liquorem, which they changed, preserved and collected;

The white Flowers have they purified, by simple progressing, till they appeared like a diamond; such have they raised, or with the flowing Phytone united, and again sometimes ascended with each other, then they have raised up this poisonous reptile and Dragon.

The Liquorem they have sometimes distilled over, till it has become like tears from the eyes. There will however not be much of this.

This they have taken, and from the remaining Faecibus, remaining behind, extracted the Pitre, and always distilled off their Spirit again from the Pitre, and this so often poured on fresh Materiam, till the Spirit has become small; that they could have extracted nothing more; then have they extracted all the Blood, and so always in the distilling off it remaining, which done together is also raised up. Which is nobler than Sol.

This is called the Blood of the Dragon. The remaining Faeces have they strongly calcined, and extracted from this a salt, which they have clarified, till it has become pure and like a Diamond, for one must clean it well. Then they have rubbed this Salt small, and put the Blood of the Ancients thereon, and melted such in a vessel of Acures together gently, so has the Salt become blood red, and the red and white Flowers they have prepared again. This they have associated in a vessel for a short time, and got a penetrating Tincture therefrom, also they have taken of the red Flower, or of the Red Lion 2 parts, of the Gluten or Columba Dianae 1 part, rubbed such amongst each other, put in a vessel of good burnt Earth, and with Acures covered. Such have they added a lid to it, that nothing can fall in, and place the vessel, that in preparing the Fire, that it is heated gradually, and heat it for 4 hours, so the red flower took the white into itself, and this repeated till the 7th time.

This is that, which the Ancients said, how they finished their stone in four hours. They have taken of such one part and added to four parts of Ophiris Sol in flux, so it will become pure tincture; of which they have incorporated half of this with one part of Columba Dianae, as has been taught till the seventh time, and in such a manner increased their work in infinitum, whereby they supported themselves in their need and came to the help of their poor imprisoned brethren

For Jesse's son, David; 1st Chron. Chap. 23, V. 14; has learned it by preserving the secret arcane of his forefathers, and Moses' miracles. And how could David assist the necessitous, if he knew no way to help himself?

Yes David, before he could prepare Sol and Luna, he got bread for himself, for he was not sure.

Of Solomon it is said in Kings 3, Chap. 10. that he made as much Sol and Luna as there are stones. It stands that it is true, that he had it brought in ships from Ophir, where however did David get it hither? And why has Roboam's son been obliged after his death to live in such poverty? Was he not able to send ships to Ophir, in order to fetch Sol?

Certainly this King, because he wanted Wisdom, that comes from the Lord, would not have been able to fill his covetousness. But Ophiris Sol is something quite different. Therefore have also many of our fathers, who were in need and care, found such noble treasures that they would help themselves anew. For when they were with God, so was that also with them, as his chosen people.

That he has however denied us his blessing, which is caused by us and our fathers' sins, which he avenges unto the 1000th generation. Therefore call and cry that he may hear us, and convert by repentance. That we follow his voice, and depart from the unrighteous ways. Did we walk in his precepts, then would we also receive prosperity and be glad in God.

Dear brethren, Ah! That you might understand me, what I at present draw before you! For I speak even with you, as with children, not in dark words. Get learning and then set out to do the work, that your poor brethren might be relieved from anxiety. Think yet how their minds are troubled under their oppression, that they cannot once raise their heads on high for distress; therefore my heart breaks, to show you a way, to help you and them. Can you not work, then pray to the Lord, that he will give you wisdom: Daniel Ch. 5, V. 21 and 22. It is forsooth easy and insignificant, if you only loosen yourself from all expensive things in the world.

Therefore dear Brethren, have I here drawn you a figure, where you may have two ways before your eyes.

First you see, how the Old Albaon chops off with his sword the intractable Winged feet of the Phytoni, and that the Phyton has in his hands a staff, the meaning of this is, that when such has happened, he then has a two-fold nature, which the two serpents point out.

This Old Procreator is drawn out once from the Primordialis Chaos, that is signified from the Fire appearing Dragon. But however the Old One floats in the Air, denoted the Spiritus Universalem or Phyton, the beginning of all things, as I, dear brethren, have taught you in the beginning. The Old One however has a Scythe or reaping hook, and will cut off the feet of the Phyton, which is an indication that such also can be prepared from another Materia than out of the Albaon, which is a black grey and heavy Materia, and one can get in abundance. And that the Old One floats in the Air has the meaning, that from this Old One, as I taught you before you shall prepare the Columba Dianae, and such blend with the Phytone, and once more cause it to rise, and then you get a two-fold Phyton, or the right Gluten, the fiery Dragon in the wet way.

But there is prepared from the Green Lion a crawling Dragon, and you have it before your eyes, and can compare with the Old One the wet way, and the Dragons the dry way.

In the work you go one, beyond, in the dry way in the preparatory work, there is another Modus than in the Wet. Dear brethren, that I may show you, however, that the Ancients possessed more secrets, for they are not all united in their ideas.

Those who had not the understanding, that they could fabricate the Lapis Albahest or the Phyton of the Ancients, yet have they known the Materiam, and have been in a position to go to work on such.

They have seen that the Alatron could be extracted from the Excrements of animals, so did they come on the thought that in Man, the most eminent production; in and out of which such excrement was frequently to be got. They have therefore collected from healthy males their Urine, and let such stand in casks to putrefy. Then have they prepared through many distillations a volatile Spirit Phytionis, as well in a dry form as also a Liquor in an horrible fiery form and Property therefrom.

This they have well preserved, and kept it in an Alingel, then they have here conveyed and have prepared from the Noble Wine their Heaven and Spiritus Phytionis.

These two fiery Dragons they have poured together, and again driven over, till the most of which ascended into a white Gluten; which they have put into an Alingel, and raised, then they have taken of the Kalii and of the Salt Earth equal parts, and out of both have driven with strong Fire, out of a crooked vessel a strong Water, or have from these two stuffs taken only one such mixed with an Earth, and with strong Fire prepared one Water therefrom.

This they have driven over several times, that no moisture was there. Then have they put the above volatile salty Liquor 1 part into a pot, as here depicted (Figure 18).

Such covered with a head with a long beak, place in a mild steamy heat or B.M. placed in Water, then they have prepared the others from the Vitriol and Nitre; and also by degrees poured 1 part thereto, then have these two fiery Dragons bit each other powerfully, and fought, till they at least remained lying dead. Then they have put a vessel with a spoon to the beak, and have driven a Phytionis spirit thereover. When the half also had flown over, they then have taken off the Vessel, the remainder they have thrown away, the Spirit which flew up, they rectified once, and have gotten a mysterious Liquor, with which they have gone to work. Others have taken the above fiery salty Liquor, of which 1 part, and added of Water Gaza the half, then driven it over, and have also successfully proceeded, and have then also got the Spirit Phytionis, as a key to the Art, then have they taken our Matter, it is Bismuth or Cobalt, and beat it small, put it into a vessel; Of this secret Liquor poured thereon, to the height of 2 diagonal hands over the matter, and place this in a mild heat, continued till the Liquor is coloured grass green, the tinged Liquor is poured off, and fresh liquor is poured on, so have they got a grass green Liquor and again a green Solution; these tinged Liquors they have put together into a vessel, and driven it over to the half, the remainder have they put in a cool place, so have the stones crystallized, as Samaragdine.

These they have taken out, the Liquor again drawn off to the half. Placed the vessel in a cool place, then are yet more crystals crystallized.

Then have they made this secret Salt dry, and placed in a crooked vessel, and laid this in an Oven, that the Fire should beat around it, and then drive out with strong Fire a volatile Spirit with an Oil, so has the Spirit gone over in a horrible Wind. For that reason they have luted a great ball in front of the crooked necked vessel; the ball have they taken away, and there remained behind for them an Alinnegra; then they have poured the Liquor back upon the matter, and replaced the ball, and driven over the Liquor again; and this they have repeated 9 or 10 times.

Then they have taken off the ball with the Liquor, and separated into 2 parts, and purified it well, then they have obtained a white and high yellow Spirit; with the white they have washed the Alingel, and poured the white Spirit thereon, and well mixed them together, placed in a mild heat, and then the Spiritus Phytonis becomes a blood red colour; this they have poured off, and poured on the above mentioned high yellow Liquor; and the other on the Latonem, and so long washed, till all redness has been drawn out of it; and that which remained behind was beautiful white, this they have well preserved. They have poured together all the red Liquor, and the white Spirit in a high vessel was driven off, till a thick blood came over. This they have put aside, and then they have caused yet more to fly, from the flown over Bird, that all watery moisture was separated therefrom.

Then have they calcined the remaining Earth. And with the Phlegma drawn out a Salt, which they purified, and then they rubbed therein the Blood of the Ancients (which is more precious than Ophiris Sol) placed into a crooked necked vessel, and poured the flying Bird thereon, and then distilled and cohobated.

Then have they called such a Liquor their Chaos. This have they put into an Acures well secured. The remaining white Earth have they taken, whereof they in the beginning extracted the white Salt, and rubbed it small, and put it into a vessel of Acures (Figure 19).

And weighted the same, and added to it 2 parts of the above Liquor, and then put the vessel in a mild heat, and distilled over the Liquor, and this they have cohobated soften, until it remains lying with the Earth and is fixed. Then they have poured thereon fresh liquor, and so continued, till all the earth with the Liquor has flown up, and then fixed in the Fire and remained lying.

Then have they taken the half of this and melted with equal weight of Ophiris Sol, so have they gotten a clear Tincture.

Then are such carried off, as I taught you before, already dear brethren, because all the after work is one and the same.

But as you see the preliminary works, as you see, are different.

Dear brethren, there have been some of the Ancients who worked thus; they have taken this green Lion, and shut it up in an Alingel, i.e., a long necked vessel, and put in horse-dung, or otherwise in a mild vaporous heat, that it should be resolved. Then have they gone to work with it, as dear brethren, I taught you in the preceding, taken from the Ancients' description of the Work. They have in the work, proceeded with this wonderful Salt, as the wise did with the Green Lion, so they prepared it from the Old One.

For in the wet way, you should also know that with the prepared Liquor they attacked the Phyton; because they had not all the knowledge of this our marvelous Materie, and also they have taken the Phyton, and put it into a high vessel, and poured thereon of the flying serpent, and put a head onto the vessel, placed the vessel in sand, and so has the flying dragon eaten the creeping reptile, and disintegrated it. Then have they driven it over, because it has remained from them a useless Earth, this flying Bird they have then poured on a fresh Phyton, and again driven them over together, so have they got a secret dissolving Water, of great effect. This have they let mount yet per se in a well secured vessel, that all remaining watery moisture should be separated, and so get its strength, fiery and clear, as a tear from the eye. With this Liquor have they also been able to do wonders, and have given it divers names.

With such Liquor have they also gone to work: They have taken Ophiris Sol, and beat it into thin leaves, and put it into an Alingel and poured so much of the Water thereon, as they thought to be enough.

Then have they placed this in a mild heat, so has this fiery Spirit consumed the Sol, and disintegrated it into Blood.

There has the King lain in is Blood, and his limbs sunk to the bottom. Then have they poured off this Red Liquor, and from their Spiritual Liquor of Columba Dianae poured yet more thereon till the Blood was decocted. Then have they poured such into a high glass (Figure 20).

Then they put a head thereon, and Lente distilled over the flying reptile, till it became a dry Liquor. This they have put in an Alingel well secured, some have put this Liquor into a crooked Vessel, thus (Figure 21):

And put it into an Oven in sand, and distill this over and Cohobate it, and so have they got the true Oil of Sol and so have they received a great Mysterium. This red fiery Lion have they divided into two portions, the one half they have put into a high Alingel, and such hermetically closed, and put the Alingel into an Oven (Figure 22); in which they could give Alingel Fire, and let it stand, till it was fixed and firm. Then they took it out, and poured of the other portion, 1 portion thereon, and closed the vessel again, and put again into the oven, and let it stand until it was again firm. Then they took it out, and poured the remainder thereon, and this they continued till the remainder was all firm and together, so they found a fiery firm Oil.

Then they caused to flow 4 shekels of Ophiris Sol, and poured 1 shekel heavy of this Oil thereon, and thus charged the Oil and the Sol into a Red Tincture, like a Burnt Blood in appearance.

Of this they took a single grain of this Tincture to 16 shekels heavy of other metals, and so they got the most beautiful Sol.

Dear brethren, others who from God the Lord endowed with more wisdom, took their Phyton which now had wings, and shut it up in the Sol; the Solution they poured off, for their Columba Dianae was nothing strange to the Sol, and then weighted it, and of together 8 shekels heavy, so they placed thereto also the common Phyton, which must be however pure. This they put into an Alingel well closed in the Oven in a mild heat; in the beginning it was black and a true Chaos, and went at last through all the colours. Others, who saw yet a nearer way, poured the Columba Dianae on pure Luna, and dissolved it in such. This heavy Water they lifted up. Then they took Ophiris Sol, and dissolved it also in one part of this Liquor, and poured it off, also into a clean vessel; then they took of the Gluten or of the Columba Dianae 1 portion, and poured it into an Alingel, and also poured the Blood of the king 1 portion, and closed the vessel, and placed it into an Oven in mild heat, and let it stand so long, till it became black. Then they continued the Algir Fire till all had coagulated together, then they took it out, and rubbed it small, and put it again into an Alingel and poured of the Columba Dianae 1 portion, and also of the Blood of the King 1 portion thereto, and closed the vessel, and put it again down and let it go through the colours, and this they repeated 7 times. Then they took this Stone out of the vessel, and let 16 shekels heavy of Ophiris Sol flow, and added 4 shekels of this fiery Lion thereto, and so have they got a Tincture.

Of such they have only thrown some grains on a whole tit of other metals, so have they got the most beautiful Sol.

Afterwards now the dear Ancients did in such a way, help themselves many time sin need, as also their brethren, but how would they have wished t remain in such need, if the highest had not helped?

Therefore, dear brethren, have I disclosed unto you anew a great secret, that you might find a consolation for one cannot have everywhere, what one desires in time of need. That it may not fail you in your grief and misery, till the deliverance comes according t the words of the Lord.

Deni, Adonai, Bocitto, Ochysche in quick time. Persevere and guard yourselves that you do not unite with the heathen.

Be not disconsolate without Elias and Our King, to collect again the heathen to you, to destroy them, as some of our brethren did, with whom need made them bad, that of them often 1000 have fallen in one day as by Barchoceta. This one thought because he also understood this Science, how one should prepare the Mysterium, and to the people to prepare a dreadful poisonous Water, thus, you must take Pirtre Kaly Pyton Puvon Salt Earth, out of this he taught the people to make a poisonous Water, and they made by Cohobating such a horrible fume of poison thereby. This they poured into Springs, and it was thick, dark and muddy in the heaven. They poured the same into a vessel, they put the same in profusion to the Fire, so it began to smoke, and poisoned also the Air, that men and beasts perished, than there came such a frightful illness among the people. That they got dreadful burning blisters, which then began to putrefy and to stink, many became pitch black, and fell suddenly down. If it came into a house, the poison raged so strongly, that no escape was at hand. Guard yourself, I say yet again, guard yourself from the like, that you do not make the burden heavier among you. Would you walk in the commandment of you God, so will he guard you, and send a speedy deliverance. Rely upon Him who made heaven, and earth. Hope and wait in patience.

Guard yourself from errors. Remain faithful then your work will soon get its regard. Help comes out of Zion. Psalms 53.

Plate IV — With this cut off the feet of Phyton or burn them off by Fire prepared from the Green Dragon.

Number 5

Dear Brethren, our father Jacob served 7 years for Rachel, and it was very toilsome for him; and his reward was changed for all that, considering that instead of Rachel he got Leah.

This is even truly a prototype of your servitude.

The Lord, the Holy One however will soon conduct us home, when the other seven years of affliction are past.

We must suffer with Leah the weeks of affliction yet a short time, then will Rachel be brought to us.

Consider that Ephraim is the first born of Rachel and not Judah. Therefore are we forsaken, and the Lord calls Jeremiah, V. 30:20. O Ephraim, my only son how my heart breaks for thee that I must again have compassion on thee, and deliver thee and lead thee out from Hagar and her son.

Brethren, the time is soon at an end, that Hagar will drop her son for sadness. For the holy Adonai will thrust her out from our inheritance, and she will languish from heat, and not be able to see, that her son dies from sadness, till the Angel will come of the Chosen People, to comfort her a little; yes the Lord will not destroy all the heathen, but preserve a portion for the service of his people.

Dear brethren, to give you yet a consolation till then, and to cheer you, have I again drawn a figure in order to impress on you right deeply the secrets. You see an Old hollow Oak-tree standing in a garden around which is twisted a rose bush with red roses, which has gilt leaves. Underneath from the stem of the tree runs a Lunar white Water.

There are some who not far from this have hoed and digged, but found nothing; except those who by the way, who contemplated the weight. Dear brethren the old tree is our black and heavy rocky lumps of our Albaon.

You must strike this rock, till it gives Water, as you have already previously with all circumstances been instructed and taught. For the Lunar white Water, which flows underneath from the tree, is our Phyton Columba Dianae, which is heavy. That however the tree bears red rose with gilt leaves, such signified the Blood of the Old One, which must be drawn out of such visibly, as the Blood of the Lion, or our secret.

That it however flows underneath out of the tree signifies a Lunar white Water, which should be prepared from the root of such a thing, so that in all parts of its nature it shall be Kin to the Sol and Luna, and that it may be also easily made firm and stable.

If you should lose all writings, then you should only depict those Figures, or draw such for you children, so will they, as others who are of a good understanding. Easily understand such, for one dares only to speak with few words, what concerns the Mysteria, come to the help of it.

Dear brethren, in order that I however suppress nothing which could serve for your advantage, so mark what wonders the Ancients have accomplished, when they have taken the Phytionis or our Gluten Aquilae, that you might yet better understand, our Columbam Dianae, and with such have also gone to work.

They have taken this as it ascended from the Old One; and have caused it to fly over the mountain, i.e., over the Alembic, for 7 times, so has it become brilliant, but in thus doing it the Basilis Kischer way (Figure 23).

Then they have prepared an acrid water, as you well know, and is well known already to you from the foregoing: in such have they dissolved Luna, and taken such a Solution, beat again with Nitre Water, and well sweetened. Of such have they rubbed 1 portion among 2 portions of the Columba Dianae, and then put on the fire, but before they were placed with each other in a tall vessel, therein in a most tolerable Fire the Luna also ascended; this they have done among the remainder, and again the Bird (Figure 24) caused to fly, and that to the third time; so has it appeared with a great brilliance, and has also tolerably lost its poison.

Figure 24

The remainder in the crooked necked vessel have they have taken out, or put into another, namely, what remained in the Luna, and raised it up (Figure 25).

Figure 25

The Columba Dianae however from the head put thereto, and thus with each other metamorphosed into a heavy glittering Water. Had they however poured this Water several times on the remaining Lunar earth, and thereof caused it to fly, so would they have it coagulated into a White Stone. For this serpent or three-headed bird loses at last its wings, and will remain firm, such has happened to me, dear brethren.

This glittering stone metamorphoses the Venus into good Luna, 3 to 14 grains to 16 shekels heavy of Venus in flux, and this stone can easily be augmented, as you will have understood in my previous writings. This is the Metamorphosed Venus clothed with the Luna.

Also has it happened to me sometimes that I poured the Columba Dianae to a Ophiris Sol, brought before to a Dust, and driven it with such aloft, in order that this green Bird might rob the King of Body and Blood, and raise it also.

As I diverted myself also, and that such should fly 7 times, and so it remained behind, and even incorporated with the Queen, for that reason.

I was constrained in order to see what would here end. But they were firm, and their wings quite burnt off and altered itself into a brown-red stone, i.e., the King became fixed with the Queen, and both became in a short space of time homogeneous.

This brown red Stone tinged and metamorphosed, yet for all that like the above with a few grains some shekels of metals into Sol.

Therefore when you will in a short and little time help yourself and your brethren, then let this be said to you, that all Metals ex Phytone have their source and beginning. All Metals consist of Ex-Phytone, for the mercury is their beginning. This sleeping Lion you can with the fixed Dianae easily again waken (Figure 28), if you rub only of the Columba Dianae 1 portion among 4 portions of the fixed, and put such only into a common vessel, then will the fixed one overcome the flying, and eat it in a very short time, so that you receive here a higher and more penetrating stone and can likewise augment as long as you wish (Figure 29).

Dear Brethren, that you can bring forward no excuse, as if the wise Creator did not care for you, so have I from inclination and command recorded, and must record, that it might not get lost, and thereby you might obtain a consolation. For it is easy, certainly not to all men; for many have such a weak understanding, that it is impossible to comprehend it. To some others however it is only Child's play. What do you suppose indeed? Should Moses and also his brother Aaron not understand the same?

Yes! For how could he turn the Golden Calf into ashes? Exodus 32.

The Spirit of the Lord was on him, for he even saw before, how the holy Adonai created heaven and earth, and from what, and how this efficient Spirit yet hovers before his eyes. This intelligible Spirit now, which was the life of all things, Moses took and consumed by fire the Calf, and made it into powder. Also Miriam, Moses' sister, because she was leprous, was cleansed by the help of this secret.

And this was to the Ancients in their need the greatest consolation. This secret was, it is true, also known to the heathen through carelessness, but it has vanished again from their hands. Therefore I ask you that you do not slight my warning from their hands. Therefore I ask you that you do not slight my warning and such, and where and how you can conceal it, that it be not lost.

It is in Roman, but the most is described in the Arabian tongue, that it be not read and understood by every one.

Dear brethren, the Ancients have at their sacrifices often had no Fire necessary, for such has been lighted at command of the most High though the Angel Michael. So have the Ancients also had a Water; 1 Kings, Chapter 18; which they poured on the sacrifices, then such has taken fire.

Such Water have also some had in a dry form. Now this is true of Elias, when he will come with the messiah, God's and David's son be found again, for it lies yet concealed at Jerusalem, as I said in the beginning. That you may know, however, how this was prepared, and can be prepared, now observe.

You must understand Nature, otherwise, it will be to you incomprehensible.

One finds a Salt, which then burns, it is the Nitre, this must be cleansed by means of dissolving and coagulating, it must twice be precipitated from a Solution of Spiritus Vini Rectified, in order that all incombustible mucus be taken therefrom; which in all its parts, the truest, yes a pure Fire. It is prepared from the Earth, and is to be found everywhere.

It is not the Universal Salt of the Earth, but it is quite another; yet it has much in common with the same; the most of it is found in the earth, where animals as sheep, etc., have their standing place. From such a Salt have they driven out with great care a fiery red Spirit, this they have poured on Pyrtre, which is pure and clear, and so long cohobated and distilled, by means of a crooked necked vessel, till the Pyrtre has become a Water with it (Figure 30).

This they have poured again on such a fresh Salt, and so it has become a thick liquor. This they have once driven over, and again poured it back, so that it has become a thick Liquor. When this stands in the cold, it will coagulate. Of this they have taken 1 portion, and put thereto 1 portion of Naptha, in a vessel of burnt stone, for it grows very hot, and so it is prepared, and on everything that it is poured on, is eaten and consumed by fire, for no Water can exterminate it.

For that reason take care, that nothing of this preparation comes in contact with yourself, for it consumes flesh and bone. Should however some of this touch you, then take only Earth mixed with Salt, and moisten this, that it becomes like a jelly and apply this, so out will be putout, otherwise nothing in the World can extinguish this. The Naptha however is an Oil, such as flows from the Rocks, and is thick, when it comes to the Air.

Also you have now information that your children can or may find it. What however concerns the said Oil, will be found at the time, when the Lord collects us again in our Land. For our fathers, priests and Levites have for such a time of need prepared. For no sanctuary, so we also require no holy consecrated Oil, for the finery is taken from Israel. Yet that you might know, what this Oil is for, and whereof it is prepared, so mark;

The Ancients took a vessel of Aures or a vessel of stone, covered with Aures, and placed this on a Fire of coal which did not scorch or give flames, and put 32 shekels heavy of god Olive Oil therein, when this became hot, then they have on hand tender, bruised and rubbed Myrrh, Cinnamon, Calamus, Cassia, of each 8 shekels heavy, this they stirred amongst each other, and let it stand well muffled up, that the strength may remain together for 1/4 of an hour.

And then they took this from the Fire and allowed it to cool, and then squeezed the Balsam through a new virgin cloth and preserved it in a clean vessel.

Herewith were the Kings and Priests anointed.

Guard yourself however, that none understand how to make this ointment; he must be a Priest or from a priestly caste. Exodus 30. God the Lord has forbidden it, so none dare to fabricate this holy ointment Oil of the bridegroom, but only a priest, who used it at marriages, when two betrothed persons appeared to the Priest, so was the bridegroom anointed with this Oil together with the blessing of Jacob.

All our brethren have also received the anointing that their matrimonial state may be blessed, and they become fruitful, for we are all children of the Holy One.

This ointment Oil was prepared out of 32 shekels of Olive Oil, 12 shekels heavy Myrrh, of Aloe and Cassia, 8 shekels heavy, Exodus 20. This then the Priests preserved also in a pure and holy place. With this they anointed also the sick and blessed them, so they became often better or died. Were they not anointed before death, then the Priest, after death anointed them as well on forehead as on breast. Dear brethren, out of what the perfume consisted, you shall also know.

The ancients have also put it together. They have taken Stacte, Onycha, Galbanum and Frankincense amalgam and such also preserved. Exodus 30.

With this have the priests in the Holy of Holies strongly been obliged to incense.

This is now what belonged to the Priesthood, that they could show such to their children. What however concerns the Urim of the High Priest Exodus 28; in which the great Jehovah showed himself, and through such at certain times spoke with the people, has not been lost, as one says, but it lies with the whole priestly finery preserved as I have previously announced to you, and will at the time, when the Lord again will visit his people, be brought out by Elias.

How my soul rejoices when I think thereon, that at that time all will be renewed and there will be no more injustice. Israel will rejoice, that the 2300 days are over from evening till morning, Daniel 8.

Be comforted, and abide in patience, and it will to you be richly rewarded.

Plate V — So you get from our old Oak tree (Old One) the White and Red, make therefrom a water and observe the Weights.

Number 6

Dear brethren, my heart will burst, when I see your distress. Shall they rage and then ruin without cessation, and the sword devour the mother with the children? Shall then innocence count for nothing? That you even forget us.

Lord, will thy anger not become tired to destroy? Is it possible that the Covenant of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob shall be no more?

Our fathers have acted unwittingly, and have disappeared, because they smote the shepherd, Zechariah, Chapter 13.

Our fathers misdeeds are certainly great, and we are also not without sin! They have persecuted the righteous and killed them, who showed thy great name.

They have passed, and have with other gods made idolatry. If you sent them a Seer, so would he be destroyed by them, as if they were such as agitated the people. Therewith they laid their hands on the Holy Ones, and those who were sent by Thee. This blood cries to Thee from the earth for revenge. But Israel, thou art struck with blindness till the Champion comes, and will again put thee into thy inheritance. How willingly, dear brethren, would I help you in your need, that is known to the Lord, therefore can I not forbear to discover to you yet something more. I have again here depicted a Figure, and how can I otherwise, that you may yet see.

You see a flower with 7 leaves, which flower is red and Sol, the leaves however not Sol, which are blown by the North Wind. The leaves signify our Green Lion, which is far better than Ophiris Sol. The Flowers however signify our Red Fixed Lion, the Tincture, which no north wind can move. And that it stands on the mountain, has a two-fold meaning. Firstly, it is sought by many men, but found by few. For this Mountain is our Altar, our Materie, which is watched by nothing but griffins and dragons, i.e., they are poisonous in their first preparation, therefore they are feared, since yet their poison is pure tincture.

Secondly, that such Flower is born in Air signifies that it mounts on the mountains, i.e., into the Alembic.

That is the Columba Dianae and is at first all there is found and seen. That however many griffins watch the mountain, and fiery dragons, has a two-fold meaning.

The fiery dragons are the Phyton or unveiled Dianae (Figure 31)

That nobody knows here, as well in the wet as the dry way. So can also with the help of the Universal Chaos of the Ancients, like from the Salt Aerum of the Magnetic fatness of the Air this fiery Dragon be understood, with which the Ancients did wonders, and this they have learned from Moses.

The Griffins are, as previously mentioned, nothing other than Spiritus Phytionis, which can be prepared as well from the old Albaon, as also from the Chaos Universalis; from men and Vines (Figure 32).

With which they mixed some Mineral spirits and from such they prepared a volatile Spirit, with which they burnt off the wings of the Phytion, and have metamorphosed into a viscous Water. Now however, dear brethren, shall I show yet some secrets worthy of wonder from our inexhaustible spring of the Ancients, and yet more Mysteria. When you, as you previously understood, your Phytion, or Flower have cleansed by many ascendings, so have you put this among prepared Luna, or transported into, and have also with each other let fly once, so has it become fat and glutinous.

This you have prepared, and when you have prepared it, you will likewise see its form. This mercurial Flower will appear, like the most beautiful pearls. Will you prepared large pearls, then take only small ones, and make such to an inconceivable dust, and take of Columba Dianae, so much thereof, that it becomes like a pap, somewhat thick, and has Sol or Luna forms, how great you would have these, made into such pearls, and stick though each a strong bristle, which is clean. The bristles stick to a cross piece of wood, this put into a vessel, which you can well close; and place it in a mild heat (Figure 33) so they will become in a short time as hard, as they have been, and of great brilliancy. Take these out and steep them into the Liquor prepared from the Columba Dianae, and let them be wiped clean, then put them again into a glass, and in a mild heat, the others in a short time will surpass. You can also cause forms to be made with divers figures, as birds, lambkins, pears, apples and the like, besides that, you can prepare pearls of priceless value.

For one is not everywhere in the position Sol and Luna to expose to sight, for the enemies sake, because if they became conscious of it, they would torment us badly. For consolation in your misfortune have I disclosed this.

One can carry such a pearl himself, and conceal and yet be of great value. The Ancients have yet further looked about in nature. If they had precious stones, which had not got their mature and right colour so have they quickly known, such to bring to sight. If they have had a Diamond, which was large and not pure, they have cleansed it from all dirt, and put it into a vessel, and poured thereupon the Columba Dianae, and let them stand with each other in a mild heat, and then has it received its pureness and beauty. Others have, however, taken the Columba Dianae in dry form, rubbed gently, and put such into a vessel of good burnt Earth (Figure 34) and laid in the Diamond, and put thereto so much of the Columba Dianae that it is only covered. The vessel they have well closed, and then put it into the Fire, and let it stand some time, then have they opened the vessel, and found their Diamond surrounded with a skin. This they have separated from it, then they have found it larger and prettier. Yes they have taken only one right beautiful Crystal, and with such in this manner proceeded, this they have now performed in all secrecy.

Others have Taken Rubys, because one can have these in considerable size, and have gone such a way, and have prepared Diamonds thereof of, which shone like a lightning flash.

They have therefore no alone in such a way maintained their life, but have also come to the help of their poor brethren, for this have they easily concealed.

Dear brethren, how often have you with such things by permission of the great King of the World appeased your enemies, that they have become compassionate, and have discharged you from servitude. But we must complain. We are everywhere obliged to serve, our inheritance lies in waste, and has become a potion to the impure, our houses to the enemies, our mothers are widows and we are dispersed orphans with fathers. Ah! Our fathers have done wrong, and merited such with their sins, we must bear the misdeeds from child to child's child. But Lord! What have these sheep done to Thee; these miserable ones? Hear yet the cry, and the sob of the same. O pity us, that we also lie with our fathers in the same condemnation, for the crown of our head is gone. But thou great King of the World, who remainest eternally, send yet our salvation and our Deliverer, who will lead us out.

Dear brethren be not tired to cry and to call till the Champion comes, who will deliver Israel. For his heart will break, that he may come to the help of the troubled, and to the mournful for joy, to the hungry for good, and to the thirsty for drink will be. Be not impatient, that you may make no more of mistakes to the Lord, and it again may happen to you like to the fathers in the wilderness, and die among the heathen. Fear the name of the Lord, then will rise up the Sun of Righteousness.

Plate VI — Let it climb to the top of the Mountains; then drive them together over (the Mountains). So will the fiery creeping worm be prepared or the winged Griffin.

Number 7

Dear brethren, that it may not fail you in the instruction, so I will her in conclusion, will not hold back from you the remaining secrets of the Ancients, but will reveal these, wherewith you may be able to come to the help of the necessitous. I have again drawn a Figure, which comprehends much in itself. Give heed to it well.

You see, that a King stands in the Figure with a naked sword; his soldiers are killing innocent children, and they collect the blood in a well standing thereby, which this is already filled with blood, in order to colour it yet some more. Into which descends Sol and Luna, to bathe themselves therein. This Figure has a two-fold meaning This Figure has a two-fold meaning, as well in the wet and dry way.

That the King stands, and has a sword in his hand, means, that one shall kill the King with it, which means nothing else but one shall take Ophiris Sol, and with such a double edged sword, with the double Central Fire, burn up and disintegrate, where I have shown you also, two ways, such to get it over.

The first is prepared out of the Universal Chaos, the other from the Animal, Vegetable and Mineral. Particularly must you conform to my teaching, where I showed, how the Ancients therewith went to work. They have taken this fiery flying Spirit, and poured this on the Phyton, and so has it taken away from it the metallic nature, and has become a glutinous white water. With this have they further proceeded, and this Liquor they again poured on fresh Phyton, so has it also become a thick viscous water. Then have they taken the King, and dissolved it therein, then has it become red like to Blood. This Blood have they now also called the Red Lion, this have they fixed, and as I already taught you, augmented their work with this sloppy Phyton, and also found a blessed ending.

Others have prepared these two Fires in their volatile form, and taken and dissolved the King with this, and distilled therefrom the flying Bird partly, to a red Liquor. This they have preserved, and put tone side, then have they also dissolved of the Diana, so have they got a blue-green water; of such have they likewise from the Liquor drawn the flying Bird in a mild heat, whereof they could not kinder, that this Spirit, as well from the King, as whose spouse should not have carried and taken something away.

On this account have they poured this flying Bird with solar and lunar feathers on the Phyton, so has it again dissolved itself again in such. They have they poured off the clear Solution, and put again on a fresh Phyton, so have they got a fat and heavy Liquor, then have they the King and Queen allied with each other, and poured together. Of such have they put the half into an Alingel, and as heavy as these two weighed, poured thereon of their fatty heavy Liquor. Then in such is the beginning and efficacious and have and also herewith sealed hermetically their springs, with each other well closed, and on our oven allowed to go through the colours, till such had become firm. Then have they taken it out, and rubbed small, again thereon poured of the Blood of the King and Queen one portion, as also of this Cadmi one portion, and however with each other let it become fixt. This have they repeated, till the Blood of the King all had been consumed.

Then have they taken out their Tincture, and divided it into to two portions, the one they have caused to flow with equal parts of Ophiris Sol, and so it has become a pure Tincture. Then have they again divided this Tincture into two portions, the one portion have they kept themselves for sustenance of their life, the other have they however blended with the half of the unmelted Tincture, and rubbed amongst each other, this again put into an Alingel, moistened with the Gluten Aquillae, that it had not only become rather thickish, closed the Alingel well, and this again let it go through the colours for Fixation and this have they practiced in Infinitum.

That should you know however, that this Tincture cannot be brought so high, as that described in the foregoing, which took its origin from the old Albaon, or otherwise prepared from a volatile solar material or Metallic Seed; for the Well in this Figure from which the blood red water gushes, signifies our Blood of the Old Albaon, which pure volatile Tincture is, in which Sol and Luna bathe themselves, or in which they grow young again.

This Figure also signifies the inexhaustible augmentation of our great work, and is nothing other than our three beginning parts whereof our single Materia take their origin, with and through which is All in All, as well under as above the earth were born all Minerals and Metals, which Materia called by its right name, also the analysis clearly taught. Will you on this account, in all truth remember this much thereof.

Our old one according to appearance is like a lead ore, but in its parts is a pure volatile Sol and Luna; it dissolves almost all its Corpus into a Water by Vitriol and Nitre prepared, which is a wonder that Vitriol can be metamorphosed; one finds also often that our Old One has white poisonous bones, which is a pure poisonous Phyton or Seed, and is here a token, that Nature seeks to make this once again volatile, for in such a form it can become no Metal; for when this comes into the open Fire, it flies all away, and leaves scarcely a little Solar Luna behind.

Do not be terrified before this poisonous reptile, for this Old One lies invariable and lives, yet it is a living Materia, which breathes and exhales without ceasing it smells through a whole room, and when our Old One is triturated and brought into the smallest molecule, annexed to such and is put together into a vessel, then this poisonous serpent coalesces again; so indeed, that if it is often driven from one vessel to another, and coalesces so, that one can with no mallet can often bring from one another; and that this is such a metallic Phyton or pure Seed, is shown by its high dark blue color, which with help of white sand or Quartz, or when it is mixed with powder, from the stones (as David employed it, from the brook with which he killed Goliath) so it gives in a strong fire a heavenly dark blue Aures, that also its Tincture and Strength shows itself in all places.

When this material is not yet too old in the mountain pits is met with, then it appears as a Luna with red intermixed, and is called a volatile Lunar ore.

If this Mineral is older and has stood longer, then it has all the colours of the world, as Lunar white with violet or blue, red with golden little sparks intermixed, often quite pure.

The third species is, when this in the pits begins to become white, then the colours are partly lost, and the material becomes silver grey mixed with much white. There is in this a most poisonous and pure volatile Tincture, which is well to bear in mind, and all three are of one species and from one root, only that one possesses more Tincture, than the other, yet are all three precious in the Art, and this material is a right Hermaphrodite, i.e., of masculine and feminine seed. The other Materia is also not to be thrown away, for it is almost in all its parts a pure volatile Sol seed, looks usually like pure Sol, is found also in red and yellow Marcz, in black and yellow grains, also in grey and white sand mixed with black grains, From such may it also be dissolved with a Liquor, and brought into Crystals of strange properties.

I have also pointed out, what the Materia is, which is denoted by so many strange Names and Figures for it is everywhere easy to get. All other Tinctures as I have shown and described to you, from other Materia are only helpers in need, and take away often more times than when you had the correct Material; if however one can not have this, while one is not qualified in all places, so will I on that account yet further show you, when you have no Sol or Luna, as from the base Metals a Tincture prepare, be means of the above named double fiery spirits. Others however who had no Sol or Luna at the beginning took their volatile Fire and Mars, and made it tenderly into Dust, and poured thereon the Liquor, and placed the Vessel in a mild heat, and so it dissolved the Mars into a high green colour.

This Solution they poured off, and poured fresh thereon; this they continued till all was extracted, the like they did also with Venus, then they poured these two together into a very tall vessel, and allowed to fly a little more than half of this Spirit to distill over.

The remainder they placed in a cool place, so they gathered Crystals as Sapphires and Turquoises.

These they took out, the remainder, which was yet joined to no Salt, they took, and allowed the bird to fly over again to the half, and placed the remainder again down, then added the remaining Salt afterwards.

Here they had a marvelous Salt, so in its interior a pure Blood, and Tincture, for the above fiery Water takes only the spiritual body of the Venus and Mars.

The fiery Spirit which was drawn over from the Venus and Mars, they took, and poured it on the Phyton, and so dissolved it in such.

The solution they brought also into a tall vessel, and distilled the fiery Humidity therefrom; for the Phyton does not ascend easily, so they met with such a heavy mucilaginous and viscous Water, and this they preserved well.

Then they took their marvelous Nitre, and rubbed it small. Here they were not united in the work, for so brought it into a crooked necked vessel (Figure 35), and drove from this a Spirit and red Oil with force of the fire. They cohobated the Spirit with the Oil from the remaining red Earth so often, till the most part of it had flown over.

From the remaining Earth they extracted with the laid up Humidity, so they distilled off from the Phyton a white Salt, this they also brought into their Liquor.

These three now they put in a mild heat, that they should unite with each other. Then they distilled such with each other, with a strong Fire and Cohobando from a strong vessel, they got a Liquor of marvelous effect.

Of this they took one portion and of the Liquor in which the Phyton had joined, also one portion, these two they poured together, and distilled them afterwards with a strong Fire Cohobando.

They took this Liquor and divided it into 4 portions, the one portion they brought into an Alingel, and shut it well, and let them together go through the colours. Others however, who were more knowing, took the Earth, from which the Nitre remained behind, and heated it thoroughly, and it is well true, and brought it into such a vessel, which was tall, because such was of a virginal essence, and poured on the Liquor, when the Earth weighed one shekel, they poured 7shekels heavy of the Liquor thereon, and put the vessel only in an oven in sand and began to distill, and distilled what would go over. The over ascended they cohobated, till it all remained firm behind. Then they poured on fresh Liquor 1 portion thereof, and continued such, till it would no more be coagulated, but flew into the vessel together, fixed and constant in the Fire.

Of this Liquor now carried over, they poured 1 portion to 16 portions of Venus in flux, and got the most beautiful Sol.

Then they took of this Sol 4 portions, and let it flow, and threw 1 portion of their Tincture thereon, then it became pure Tincture.

This they parted into 2 portions, and put the one portion again in, and worked immediately, and were helped in their need.

Others, however who were more sage, took this marvelous Salt, and brought such into a vessel, closed it and put it into a mild heat or in horse-dung, in order that it resolve itself into a grass green Liquor, which they likewise gave may marvelous names. This they now took, and brought it into a crooked necked vessel of Acures, and separated this Liquor from each other, and put it again together, as I have already taught you. This now of a simple conception was made with great trouble from this salty Liquor, as mentioned previously, with a strong Fire, which alone they made firm, and had no knowledge of the Phyton, how it has a co-agent, as Sol and Luna must be in doing this, that they also its seed gave thereto.

When now that they carried their Tincture to the Venus so it indeed became also a Tincture, when however they carried this to other Metals, before they carried it to the Venus, as that previously happened to a Sol containing Venus. Here they knew not how to help themselves, and if they carried this Tincture to the Phyton, so it would not take it in, for it was yet in its combustible bodies, therefore they must be satisfied with what they had, that their work was not once satisfied.

Dear brethren, Nature is most hidden, yet she can give no more, than she herself has in her power. Others now who had no Sol or Luna in readiness, yet from a mighty understanding when they prepared their double fiery spirit, they preserved such, and made, as I taught you already in the beginning, a solar Spirit in pure Water, and let such again therefrom fume, this they have repeated several times, then they poured a Spirit prepared from the Vino thereon, and extracted all solar Tincture thereout.

This Spirit they now distilled again, till there remained a red Dust, on this Dust they now poured their fiery Water, and extracted it several times, then they got an auriferous Phyton, then they made with the fiery Water also from the Phyton a glutinous Liquor, and poured these two together, and made this according to the Art firm; then they got an Oil Tincture on Venus in Sol.

Others however made a Salt from the Mars and Venus as is taught and from this with force of the fire drove an Oil Liquor and poured these 3 in similar weight together. The Earth Virgineam so remaining, they calcined with strong Fire and commenced to carry their Tincture thereon, as is already said, and so they got a Tincture much stronger than the former, and could also easily increase this.

Therefore can you see, dear brethren, when you wish to, that the All Wise King of the World has shown enough ways, to help you in your need. That however I keep nothing back, what can serve only to your well being, so have some of the Ancients also gone in the following way, for they not always would have been able to attain their purpose, and have yet understood and known the true Mineral Materia.

So have they taken such, and beat small, and with this Menstruo or fiery Water dissolved its body, and prepared from the same a marvelous Salt, and have come much closer to Nature.

With such a Green Lion have they gone to work, according to the above teaching, and have also obtained their purpose.

Others who knew not how to help themselves, and who wanted wisdom only merely with this fiery Water unfolded Ophiris Sol into a blood red Tincture, and again mildly distilled such a fiery Water therefrom, till a red Dust remained.

This Dust they have carried to other Sol standing in a red flux, and tinged such Sol with it, and transmigrated it to a brittle red Massa, with which they have brought some portions of Luna into Sol. I could, dear brethren, reveal yet more of the same secrets, but the life of man is too short, but I have only wished to show you the most secret and important ways, but I have only wished to show you the most secret and important ways, that you might have something for consolation in your oppression, in order to free your poor imprisoned brethren from the bonds of servitude, and come to the help of poor widows and orphans, and to provide for the necessitous and miserable, that you through doing will eradicate all evil.

Give alms willingly, fast and pray, for such eradicates sin and releases from death. You will support yourself that you may live. Tobit 12.

Hold this book even concealed, that the curse may not come on you, and you be banished from the earth. Act wisely and wait in patience. The blessing of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob will come to you, and God will fulfill the promise of Abraham

The Lord will keep his covenant, and he has sworn. Come all, you chosen ones to praise the Lord, the King of all the World. You servants of God praise the Lord for his gifts, and praise the eternal Saviour, who lives for ever.

Praise with me and all that is by us, praise the Lord!

Praised be He, who releases His people, and raises from the dust.

May His Kingdom remain to Eternity.

Halleluja, Hossanna, Halleluja.

Finis.

A Short Explanation of Terms from the Arabic used in this Book:

Acanus --- First metal
Asophol --- Gold
Marcz --- Clean virgin Mars or Virgin Earth
Acures --- Retort
Algir --- Fire
Albaon --- Plumbum Nigrum (Lead), Magnesia, Bismuth
Puck or Puch --- Stibium (Antimony)
Phyton --- Mercury
